No. 13.

Resolutions on Death of William T. Walters.

Whereas, The death of William T. Walters calls for some official action on the part of our municipal government, for to his efforts more than to that of any other one citizen of Baltimore is largely due the encouragement and progress of the fine arts, and to the beautifying of our public squares and parks with magnificent bronzes by the leading sculptors of the world, and to establishing in our midst a private art gallery, which for rare gems of statuary, painting and oriental ornaments in almost every conceivable form can scarcely be equaled in all Europe, and the further fact that the proceeds derived from the sale of tickets of admission to this paradise of art was at all times appropriated to the funds of the Society for the Improvement of the Condition of the Poor; therefore be it
